Conditional Receipt

including notices required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act and the
Medical Information Bureau (MIB)

The following Conditional Receipt is issued by Assurity Life Insurance Company when the full initial premium is collected from the Proposed Insured/Owner at the time the application is completed. The full initial premium may be collected when the amount of in-force and applied for individual life coverage, including the present value of future benefits of any reversionary annuity policy, with Assurity Life Insurance Company does not exceed $500,000. This $500,000 limit applies to applications on which the Proposed Insured has fully and accurately answered all health questions indicating no significant health problems. Individual life applications may be accepted without the health questions answered if the Proposed Insured is to be medically examined. However, in these cases, the full initial premium can be collected only when the in-force and applied for coverage, including the present value of future benefits of any reversionary annuity policy, does not exceed $100,000 with Assurity Life Insurance Company. The full initial premium may also be collected for individual disability coverage when the amount of in-force and applied for individual disability coverage (base policy Monthly Benefits plus SDIR Monthly Benefit) with Assurity Life Insurance Company does not exceed $2,500 per month. Applications with in-force and applied for amounts that exceed these limits, or where the Proposed Insured has significant health problems, must be handled on a Cash On Delivery (C.O.D.) basis.

In addition to the above insurance limits, issuing a Conditional Receipt requires full modal payment (including PAC authorization and sample check for PAC mode, if applicable). A Conditional Receipt may not be issued in exchange for a postdated check or a partial premium payment. Payment in this manner in no way conditionally binds Assurity Life Insurance Company.

Following the Conditional Receipt are two notices required to be given to the Proposed Insured. The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act notice explains the nature of investigative consumer reports, and explains the Proposed Insured's rights if such a report is requested. The disclosure regarding the Medical Information Bureau (MIB) informs the Proposed Insured of restrictions on obtaining and disclosing confidential medical information.

HIV (AIDS VIRUS) ANTIBODY TEST INFORMED CONSENT FORM

INTRODUCTION

Please read this form carefully before making your decision to be tested or not. Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) is the cause of acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS). All persons infected with HIV can spread it to others through unprotected sexual contact, or sharing needles and equipment. Infected mothers can also give HIV to their unborn children. HIV is also found in breast milk of infected mothers.

In almost all situations, testing for HIV infection is voluntary. The HIV antibody test can be performed on a sample of blood, urine, or from tissue secretions inside the mouth.

WHAT THE TEST MEANS

This test detects antibodies to the HIV virus. Antibodies are produced in the body when the virus enters the body.

A Negative test result means:

- HIV antibodies were not found at this time or;
- You do not have HIV or;
- You may have tested too soon after infection. It may take between three to six months from the time you were infected with the virus for the test to become positive. Based on your exposure, a follow-up test may be highly recommended.

A Positive test result means:

- You are infected with HIV, the virus that causes AIDS.
- You may pass on HIV to others.
- You should seek additional medical information, treatment and counseling.

An Indeterminate test result means:

- You may have another condition that is causing your immune system to falsely react to the HIV antibody test.
- You may have been recently infected.
- Referral to a specialist for repeat testing or special confirmatory testing should be pursued to determine whether HIV infection is present.

BENEFITS OF BEING TESTED

There are several benefits to being tested. Most infected persons benefit from taking medication that may delay the onset of AIDS and other serious infections. It is important that all infected persons get a complete medical checkup so that their health care providers can provide the most appropriate recommendations about treatment, care and support services. In addition, knowing test results can help people in making choices about contraception and pregnancy. Many persons find that knowing their test results encourages them to practice safer sex practices with their partners, not share drug injection equipment or seek drug treatment. If you are pregnant, treatment for HIV can help prevent giving the disease to your child. Some people want to know their HIV status before beginning a new relationship, or becoming pregnant. Others will be reassured by learning that they are not infected.

RISK AND DISADVANTAGES OF BEING TESTED

Many persons with positive test results will experience stress, anxiety or depression. Some persons with negative test results may continue, or increase unsafe behaviors. Some persons are concerned that their test results will get into the wrong hands, and that they may be discriminated against. (See Privacy and Confidentiality below). Before being tested you should consider your social supports (such as family and friends).

PRIVACY AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Some people are concerned that their test results will get into the wrong hands. Penalties for violations of the confidentiality laws are severe. We keep a record of the health services we provide to you. We will not disclose your record to any one else unless you ask us to do so, or unless the law authorizes us to do so.

Washington State law says that with Confidential HIV testing the name or identity of the individual tested for HIV will be recorded and linked to the HIV test result, and that the name of the individual testing positive for HIV will be reported to the state or local health officer in a private manner. The local health department changes names into codes, and after 90 days, the name must be destroyed by law. No lists with names are maintained and names cannot be recreated from codes.

Washington State law states that Anonymous HIV testing means that the name or identity of the individual being tested for HIV will not be recorded or linked to the HIV test result. If you test anonymously, your record will be identified by your personal code, not your name. To learn your test result you must confirm your identity with your personal code. This is different than the code, which is used to protect the confidentiality of reported cases. Once an individual who tests positive receives HIV health care or treatment services, reporting of the individual to the state or public health officer is required.

HIV ANTIBODY TEST PRE-TEST INFORMATION SHEET

HIV ANTIBODY TEST AND AIDS

The following information is designed to help you decide if you should take a blood test for antibody to the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). HIV is the virus that is the primary cause of the acquired immunodeficiency syndrome (AIDS). AIDS is a serious disease in which the body's immune system has been injured and no longer works properly, resulting in different types of infections and cancer.

This is a test for the antibody to the virus, but it is not a test for AIDS. A positive antibody test means that your body has been infected with HIV and that your immune system has made a substance (antibody) directed against the virus. Although this is not a test for the virus itself, there is a high likelihood that a positive antibody test also means that the virus is in your system, and that you may be "carrying" the virus which could be transmitted to other people.

It is not known with certainty if a person with a positive antibody test will develop AIDS; it is currently estimated that up to 20-25 percent of people with HIV infection will develop AIDS within six years, and an additional 25-30 percent will develop other less serious medical conditions such as swollen lymph nodes, fever, fatigue, night sweats or weight loss. The long-term prognosis of most persons with HIV infection is unknown.

"HIGH-RISK" AND "LOW-RISK" GROUPS FOR HIV INFECTION AND AIDS

Populations which have been identified as at high-risk for HIV infection and possible development of AIDS include homosexual or bisexual men, injection drug users, people who took certain treatments for hemophilia before these products were made safe, sexual contacts of people in these groups, sexual contacts of HIV-positive individuals, and people from countries where the virus is more frequently present (such as Central Africa). Populations at low-risk include anyone not in one of the high-risk groups.

A positive HIV antibody test in a person from a high-risk group indicates infection with the virus. A negative test in a person from a high-risk group usually indicates absence of infection. However, a small percentage of high-risk persons will have a false-negative test, meaning that the virus is present but the antibody is not. This could indicate that the exposure was so recent that the virus is still incubating and the antibodies have not developed. The incubation period for the virus is believed to be six to 12 weeks. The longest time between conversion from negative to positive reported to the Centers for Disease Control is 14 weeks. Based on this data, if a repeat test is negative three months after exposure, then HIV infection is probably not present.

A positive test in a person from a low-risk group usually indicates infection with the virus. However, some low-risk persons may have a false-positive test, meaning actual HIV antibody is absent, but the test is positive because of another substance in the blood. In these cases, further medical evaluation or other tests will help decide if the test is true or false positive. A negative test in a person from a low-risk group means HIV infection is not present.

POTENTIAL ADVANTAGES OF THE HIV ANTIBODY TEST

If your test is positive, you will gain knowledge of an important medical condition you need to know about and understand further, and be able to inform your sexual partner(s), physician and dentist. By knowing of your HIV infection, you can take measures to prevent transmission to others, to possibly prevent the development of AIDS, and to become a candidate for treatment against the virus if such therapy becomes available.

If your test is negative three months after the last possible exposure, you will learn that you do not have the HIV infection, that you can take measures to prevent becoming infected, and that you are not likely to develop AIDS. You might then benefit from a vaccine to prevent HIV infection if it becomes available.

CONFIDENTIALITY

Records of this test, if submitted under your name, will be maintained in files at the local health clinic where the test was conducted. Only public health workers have access to these files. The information about HIV testing in these records is considered confidential; it will not be released to another person, physician, health care agency, government institution, insurance company or employer without your written permission. This information may be compiled for public health statistics or for research purposes, but in these situations, personal identifiers are not used.

THE RESULTS OF THIS TEST WILL ONLY BE REVEALED TO YOU IN PERSON UPON PRESENTATION OF THIS FORM, OVER THE PHONE OR THROUGH THE MAIL. THIS WILL BE DONE TO PROTECT CONFIDENTIALITY AND TO FURTHER DISCUSS THE RESULTS AND INTERPRETATION OF YOUR HIV ANTIBODY TEST.

IF YOUR TEST IS NEGATIVE . . .

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOUT THE HIV ANTIBODY BLOOD TEST

AIDS is caused by HIV, a virus which attacks the body's immune system. People who have been infected by the virus produce "antibodies" to the infection; these antibodies are what the blood test measures. Your negative test probably means that you have not been infected with the virus BUT:

- A NEGATIVE TEST DOES NOT MEAN THAT YOU ARE IMMUNE. If you engage in high-risk activities, you can still become infected with the virus.
- You may have been tested so soon after you were exposed to the virus that antibodies have not appeared in your blood yet. You may be infected, and if you are, you can infect others.

If you get tested in three to four months (and you have not been exposed to the virus in the meantime), and your results is still negative, you can probably assume that you are not HIV infected. The longest time between exposure and conversion from negative to positive reported to the Centers for Disease Control is 14 weeks.

HOW CAN I KEEP FROM GETTING OR SPREADING THE VIRUS?

- Know your sex partners. Ask questions about past sexual history and drug use. Be honest about your own past.
- Practice "safer sex:" use a condom for vaginal, anal, and oral sex; don't allow your partner's blood, semen, urine or feces to get into your vagina, anus, or mouth; don't allow your semen, blood, urine, or feces to get in your partner's vagina, anus, or mouth; don't share sex toys.
- Remember that condoms do not provide 100 percent protection against infection, and that anal intercourse (even with a condom) is more risky than oral or vaginal intercourse.
- Don't use injection drugs, but if you do, never share needles or syringes with anyone.
- See your doctor at least once a year.
- Don't share razors, toothbrushes, or anything else that could be contaminated with blood or body fluids.

TO SUMMARIZE: IF YOUR TEST IS NEGATIVE:

- You probably have not been infected;
- Practice "safer sex";
- Get retested in three months after exposure;
- Get retested before you plan a pregnancy;
- You are not immune to the virus; avoid exposure.

IF YOUR TEST IS POSITIVE . . .

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ABOUT THE HIV ANTIBODY BLOOD TEST

DOES BEING POSITIVE MEAN I HAVE AIDS?

NO. A positive HIV test means that you have been infected with the HIV virus, and that your body's immune system has produced antibodies to that infection. The blood test does not diagnose AIDS. Because the virus can lie dormant for many years, the final result for people with a positive test is unclear. Some infected people will not go on to develop AIDS. Some will remain healthy. Other will have an AIDS-related illness (ARC) which is usually fatal. Some people will in fact go on to develop AIDS.

A POSITIVE TEST MEANS THAT YOU CAN INFECT OTHERS, but only in certain ways:

- Through intimate sexual contact; or
- Through sharing needles when using drugs; or
- A mother can infect her unborn or newborn infant.

There is no evidence that the virus is spread through casual contact. It is safe to go on working, go out with friends, eat with friends, eat in restaurants, hug your family and live with others. However, you must consider yourself contagious, and take steps to protect all sexual or injection partners from exposure to the virus.

COULD MY TEST BE WRONG?

Your sample was tested three times before the positive result was reported: twice with the ELISA test, and once with the Western blot test. The chances of a "false positive" depend on whether you practice behaviors that place you at highest risk for AIDS: 1) gay or bisexual men; 2) injection drug users who have shared needles; 3) people with hemophilia who received clotting factor; 4) heterosexuals with multiple sex partners; 5) people with symptoms of AIDS; or 6) sex partners of any of the groups listed above.

The combination of ELISA and Western blot tests is very accurate, especially among persons who practice high-risk behaviors. Although you may be sure about your own behavior, you cannot be certain about infection in even a single partner. If you suspect that you are not at risk, repeat the test. In the meantime, you must assume that you are positive, and take steps to protect your sex and/or needle-sharing partners.

SHOULD I SEE A DOCTOR TO FIND OUT IF I HAVE SIGNS OF AIDS?

Yes, if you notice any of the following signs or symptoms, your doctor should give you a thorough physical examination. Be sure he/she knows about HIV; this clinic can refer you to a doctor if you don't have one.

SYMPTOMS OF CONDITIONS RELATED TO AIDS:

- Swollen glands in your neck, armpits, or groin;
- White patches in your mouth;
- Unusual bruises or sores on your skin;
- Fever or diarrhea that lasts longer than three weeks;
- Weight loss, not due to exercise or dieting;
- Shortness of breath;
- Drenching sweats at night;
- Severe confusion or change in mental status.

IF YOU NOTICE ANY OF THESE SYMPTOMS, IT IS IMPORTANT TO SEE A DOCTOR AS SOON AS YOU CAN.

WHAT ELSE SHOULD I DO NOW?

- TELL YOUR SEX OR NEEDLE-SHARING PARTNERS that you are positive for the virus and urge them to get testing and counseling.
- PAY SPECIAL ATTENTION TO YOUR HEALTH: get enough sleep, exercise, and eat healthy food. STOP using illegal drugs of any kind, and NEVER share needles.
- FOLLOW THE "SAFER SEX" GUIDELINES to prevent infecting others, and to protect yourself from being exposed to more HIV virus or other Sexually Transmitted Diseases (STDs). Laboratory evidence indicates that HIV multiplies faster when the immune system is activated. This could mean that exposure to another infection could hasten the development of AIDS.
- GET A TUBERCULIN SKIN TEST through a clinic or physician.
- INFORM YOUR DENTIST and other health care providers of your state.

WHAT SEXUAL ACTIVITIES ARE CONSIDERED SAFE?

Any activities that don't involve that sharing of body fluids (semen, blood and vaginal fluids) are considered safe. ALWAYS USE A CONDOM or insist that your partner use one for oral, anal or vaginal intercourse. Remember that a condom does not provide 100 percent protection against infection and that anal intercourse (even with a condom) is more risky than oral or vaginal intercourse. Don't use saliva, Vaseline, or other oils as a lubricant when you use condoms; use a water-base lubricant. Safer sex includes hugging, cuddling, mutual masturbation, massage and dry kissing. Any kind of sexual intercourse without a condom is considered unsafe.

ARE THERE OTHER WAYS TO PREVENT SPREADING HIV?

Yes. Here they are:

- Don't donate blood, plasma, semen, body organs or tissue.
- Don't get tattooed.
- Don't share toothbrushes, razors, or any other implement contaminated with blood or body fluids.

REMEMBER . . . WE WILL KEEP YOUR TEST RESULTS CONFIDENTIAL, AND IT IS UP TO YOU TO PROTECT OTHERS FROM GETTING AIDS THROUGH SEXUAL OR NEEDLE CONTACT.

- Terminating or altering existing coverage, before new insurance has been issued, might leave you unable to purchase other life insurance or let you buy it only at substantially higher rates.
- You are entitled to advice from the existing agent or company. Such advice might be helpful.
- Study the comments made above by the agent or broker. They apply to you and this proposal. They are important to you and your future.
